Entrepreneur of Brand Planet and Humantra

Throughout his life, Sezer has pursued seven main objectives that have shaped his character and contributed to his success.

Firstly, in terms of education, he graduated with honors from Bilkent University's Business Information Management Department. Later, he completed a Master's degree in Advertising and Brand Communication from Bahcesehir University, where he also earned honors. During his time at Bilkent University, he took on leadership roles in various project groups, founded the Bowling Club, and managed other school clubs. Additionally, he organized events such as the reforestation of the school campus and helped provide stationery and clothing to underprivileged communities in Türkiye's eastern regions. His exceptional contributions to extracurricular activities earned him the prestigious Award of Excellence.

Secondly, in his professional career, Sezer believes that a determined approach is essential for success, just like a fish diving deep into the sea. He has honed his skills in Brand and Marketing Communication Management, working for various boutique agencies, as well as larger organizations such as Sabancı University, Kantar, Yıldız Holding, Bilkent Holding, and numerous brands in different sectors.

Thirdly, entrepreneurship is his passion, and he has achieved great success through his project, Brand Planet, a new media outlet for the business world, covering topics such as marketing and branding. Additionally, he founded Humantra, a brand focused on wellbeing and spirituality.

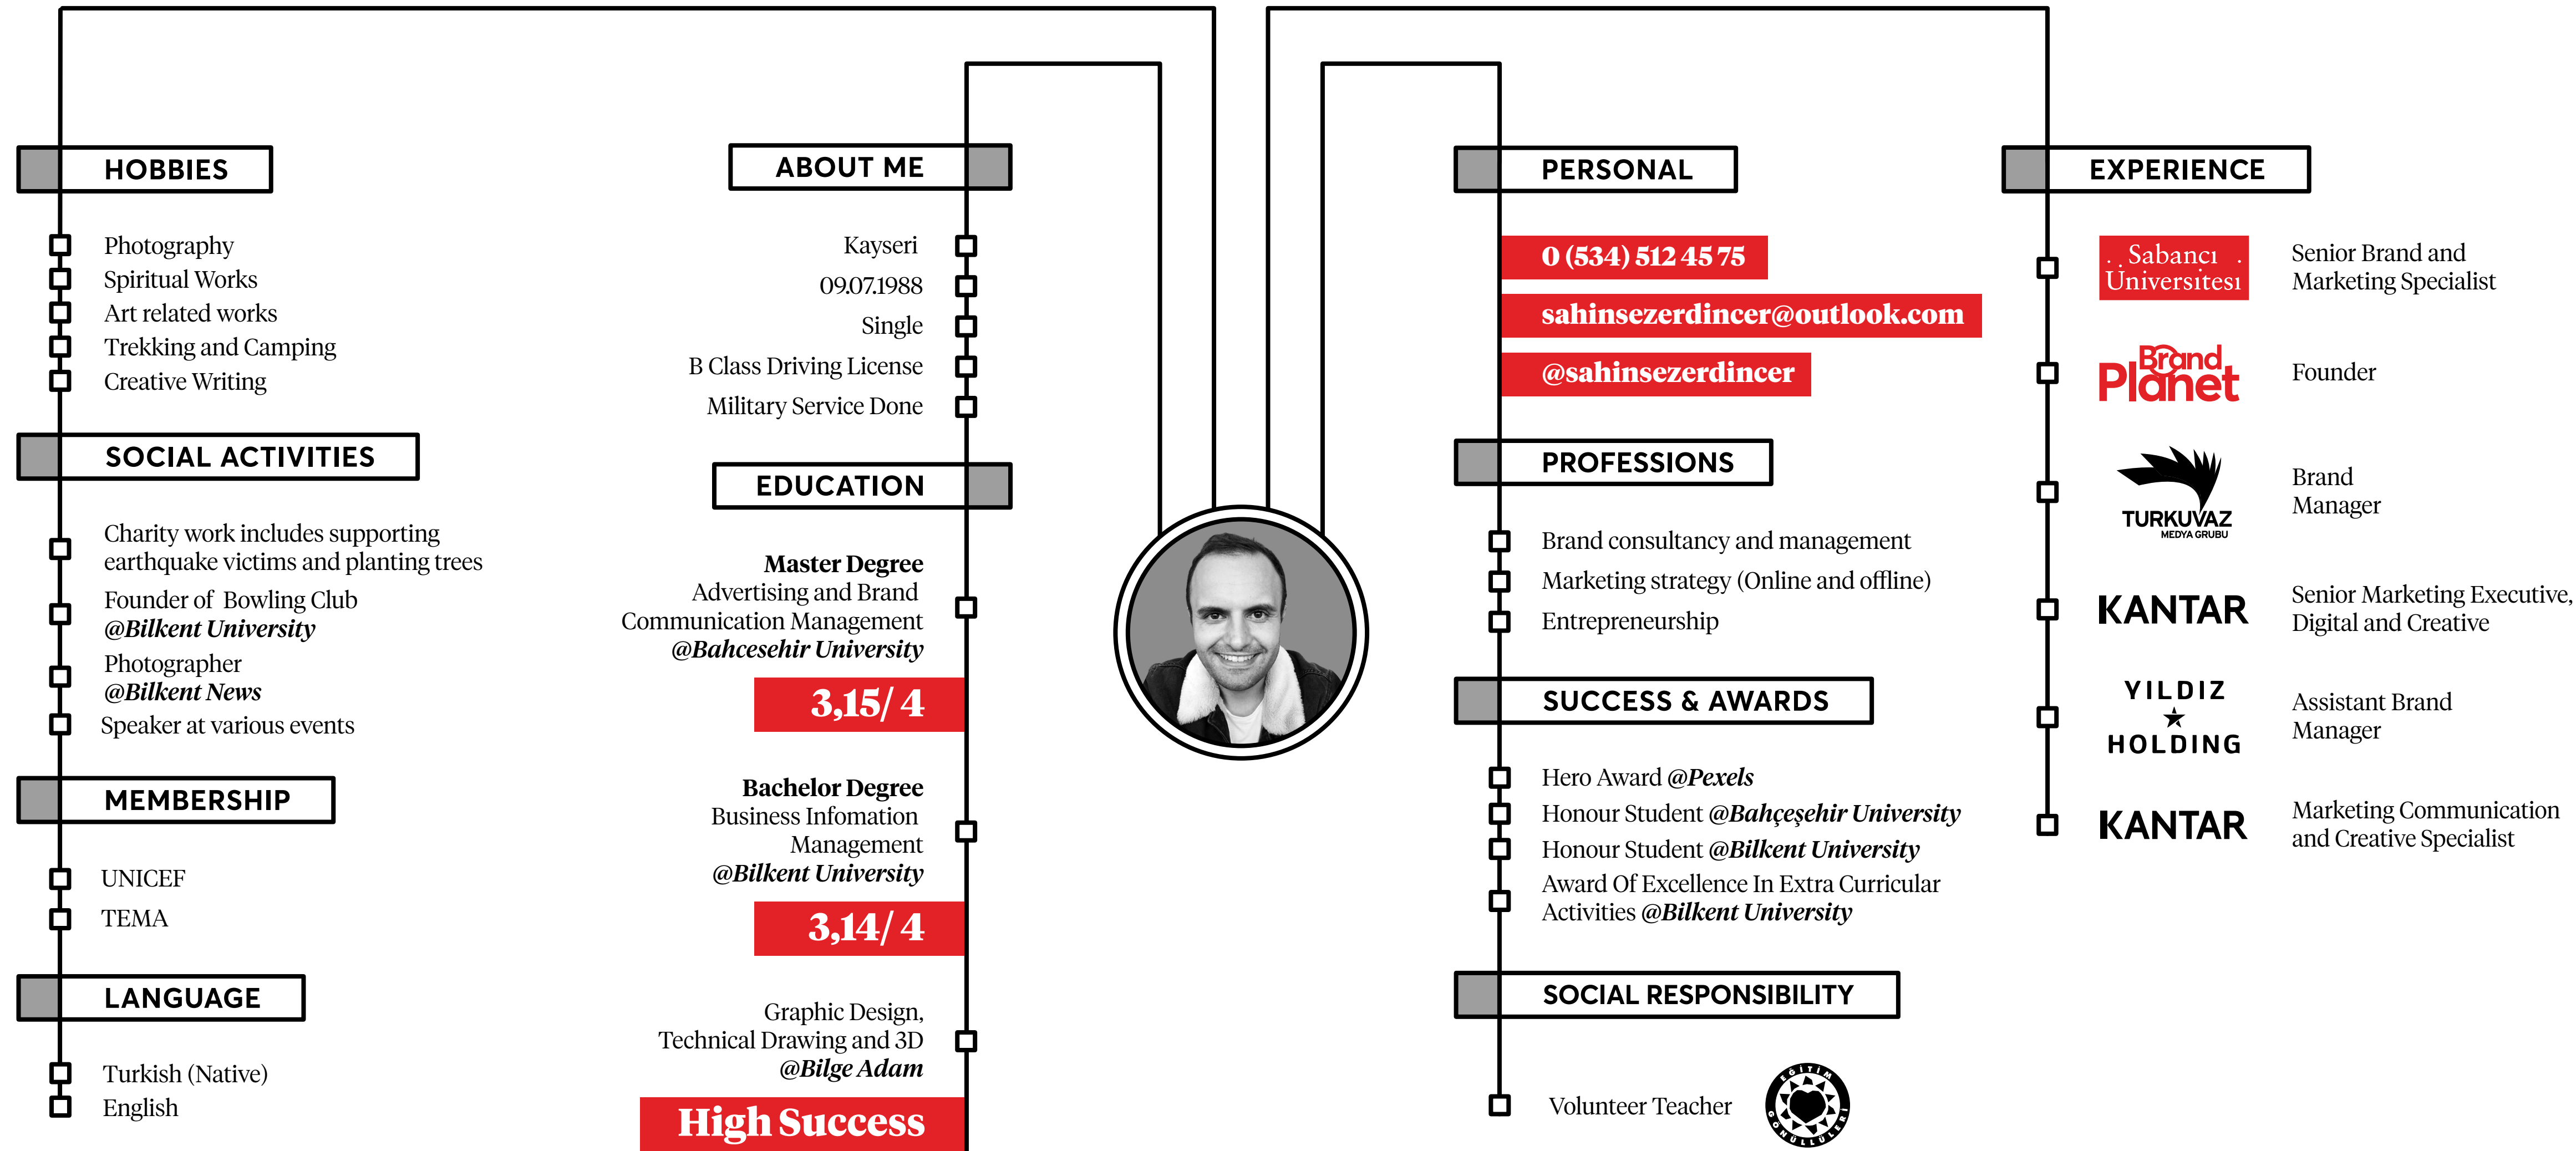

Fourth, personal development is crucial for shaping one's luck in life. Sezer has invested heavily in developing his interpersonal skills and industry knowledge through virtual training programs and seminars. As a result, he has gained mastery in modern technologies and software, including Adobe CC (Photoshop, Illustrator, InDesign, Premiere Pro, InCopy, After Effects), Microsoft Office (Word, PowerPoint, Excel), and Apple's software (Final Cut Pro, GarageBand, and its office software).

Fifth, he believes in passing on knowledge to the next generation and actively participates in activities and shares his ideas on different platforms both online and offline. For instance, he presented "Creating an Extraordinary Brand" at many universities and shared his observations and predictions about the future of marketing and branding on his blog.

Sixth, social responsibility is crucial in repaying nature and its creatures. Therefore, Sezer volunteers for civil society organizations such as TEGV, raising awareness for their projects, and UNICEF.

Finally, hobbies are crucial for maintaining work-life balance. Despite his busy work life, Sezer enjoys photography, Ebru art, Tarot reading, creative writing, trekking and camping, and cooking.

He is eager to use his capabilities and potential to contribute to the growth and sustainability of the organization. Is the organization ready? Let's do it!
